Water Play at Its Best

As every parent knows, kids have a big say on where families go, and how long they stay—it's why this form of family based attraction is so vital to your park. Providing the whole family with a place to play, one that keeps them engaged for hours, where parents can either join in or easily supervise from the sidelines, will keep guests of all ages happy and on-site longer. It can mean the difference between a single-visit and a season pass.

With a versatile range of sizes to fit any footprint, budget, and capacity requirement, our AquaPlay line delivers high play value with plenty of interactive play features, water sprays, and water slides. These water playgrounds can also be custom themed or choose from our library of immersive themes – both of which will make your AquaPlay become the focal point for kids.

Our entire AquaPlay line is designed following the most strict international standards, and tested in-house to ensure the safety of all users. All components are stringently tested and even its commissioning is done to follow the most strict regulations and international codes to make sure it operates correctly and safely.

Tips to improve your park's inclusiveness:

- Starting at the pool level, using a zero-depth pool entry or a wet deck will make any attraction more accessible for those with physical limitations.
- Upgrading from concrete to Life Floor, an impact-absorbing flooring, will increase playability and safety for all guests.
- Add ramps and ADA doors to AquaPlay decks so that children with physical limitations can reach slides and higher up interactives.
- Consider increasing the water temperature at some attractions so that kids with conditions that maybe preclude them from colder temperatures can play.
- Add visual cues to alert children with hearing impairments that the tipping bucket is about to tip.

Solutions to Fit Your Needs

Fun for All Ages

Age-specific products such as an AquaPlay create segregated zones where toddlers can play and feel safe as parents look on, while our RainFortress create a round-the-clock family entertainment stop.

Fun for All Spaces

Whether it's indoor or outdoor, a larger corner of your park, or a tiny wet deck, we have a product that is right for you.

Small footprints can be maximized by building up with our multi-level play structures, such as AquaPlay, RainFortress, and FusionFortress, to increase your play space along with capacity.

Fun for All Capacity

Adding a multi-level play structure is the perfect way to increase your capacity without increasing land use. By building up, you're adding, depending on size, instantaneous capacity without queue lines for hundreds of guests.

Capacities range from approximately 62 people on an AquaPlay 50 to over 1,600 on a FusionFortress 17.
