Introduction

Children need creative play as part of their development, as they’re inspired by their limitless imaginations. Toys such as building blocks to jigsaw puzzles help stimulate children’s developing minds, helping them grow and shaping them into full-fledged adults. Based on the philosophies of unstructured, free play, our AquaSplash line of products help create spaces that are not limited by age or physical ability, but instead, allow kids to choose their own adventures.

Diversity of Choice

Our AquaSplash line can be used to complement the multi-level play structures in our portfolio, and can be configured to create well-rounded, multi-element splash pads suitable for kids of all ages—from toddlers to teens. Let kids run free and boost colour and play value by adding Life Floor’s foam-rubber flooring system, which has been designed to reduce slips and falls.

With hundreds of elements that can be chosen from and combined to create a one-of-a-kind experience, we have options for every price point, capacity requirement, footprint, and demographic.

We can help you design the perfect splash pad

Every child plays differently, hence, we have a lineup of products that includes features suitable for every play style. Child psychologists have long identified that play encompasses a wide variety of activities. There is physical play to help physical development, imaginative play that leads to cognitive development, adventure play that builds confidence, and social play that gives kids skills to interact with their peers.

Our own research identified four distinct play types which people of all ages have a personal bias towards (find out more at our website*), thus, we make sure that our portfolio encompasses products that are enjoyable for all types: Adventurers, Challengers, Dreamers, and Socializers. From daring tipping buckets and exciting water effects to moderate sprays and colorful effects and shapes for imaginative play, we can design the perfect splash pad that creates stimulating play for everyone.

Our AquaSplash elements are made up of these three groups:

Adventure

- Big water effects and continuous action
- Fast-paced and encourages thinking
- Centrally placed

Exploration

- Includes play elements and water effects, encouraging physical movement
- Opportunity for collaboration and interactive play
- Works as a "connector" between discovery and adventure areas

Discovery

- Gentle water effects
- Cognitive play opportunities for individual and group play
- Located away from the adventure zone for a more relaxed experience

We help you save water and energy

AquaSplash elements are built with conservation in mind, to help you save water and energy, which in turn help save our planet. Our water management tools include Activators that can be installed in every splash pad to help conserve water and energy when not in use. Activators are simple enough to trigger that anyone—even small children—can activate them, turning on all the features on a splash pad.

To control multiple splash pads from a single screen through an intuitive user interface, you can add an optional Controller to your splash pad. It also collects data for analyzing and reporting, and with smartACCESS, you can always check in on what's happening at each splash pad anywhere, anytime.

Colour Chart

Our standard colour palette features hues that harmonize with your surroundings, whether that be your water park, a city landscape, or campground.

Choose from a range of bright and beautiful colour options that have been designed to withstand the elements. Our super durable and lead-free coating has been built for extreme climate temperatures, moisture, and UV exposure.

Pre-set Colour Collections

To take the guess work out of choosing the right colour combinations, we've also crafted balanced colour collections for you to choose from.

Our impact-resistant and durable polymer allows sunlight to pass through to cast bright hues and heighten interest.

Stones & Spray Clusters

What can be more fun than stones that shoot water? We offer a range of Stones that are inspired by the smooth pebbles found in streams and rivers—they come in various sizes, from small to big, that provide a calm space for kids to rest and relax.

Spray Clusters encourage creative play through the unique placements of sprays. One of our Spray Clusters, Tide Pools, features stones and other elements on uneven ground, allowing shallow pools to form between stones. Within these pools are marine animal sprays such as seashells and starfish.

WaterWays

There is nothing quite like discovering how water moves and interacts with other objects. With WaterWays, kids can guide flowing water into waterfalls and gullies, through spinning weirs and tipping buckets, across holes and into whirling basins. Each component is designed with safety in mind, so children of any age can discover the fun ways that water moves. All of the moving parts are made with soft material that won't trap or injure delicate fingers and hands, making the experience not only fun, but minimizes the potential for injuries as well.

Illuminators

Illuminators add dazzling colour effects to Ground Sprays and help to not only beautify your splash pad, but to extend hours of usage into well after sundown, too. Illuminators are recessed LED lights that are completely waterproof and can also be used to light up pathways by creating a glow effect.

Discovery Stream by ehrling

Discovery Stream fosters kids’ imaginations by creating a world of endless play possibilities. It is a modular stream bed packed full of fascinating water weirs that encourage children to play with both the physical components and their active imaginations. Designed with bends and curves so that water moves just like in a real river, Discovery Stream features fish, moving grass, and much more!

Ground Sprays

Ground Sprays are an integral part of any splash pad. They can be standalone or combined with various other elements such as Illuminators or designed into interesting patterns. Ground Sprays are very versatile elements that can create shapes, be of different heights and lengths, and even be used as placeholders for more intricate elements that are to be added in the future.

To create an extra layer of interactivity, ground sprays can be activated by being stepped on, as in Puddles and Tappin' Tunes. Puddles create sprays of different shapes and heights when stepped or jumped on, and Tappin' Tunes is a keyboard with sprays on each key.

Safety You Can Count On

All the materials that go into creating WhiteWater's AquaSplash products are non-toxic and adhere to ADA and ASTM safety standards. The standard AquaSplash colour palette is a lead-free powder coating that was designed to withstand extreme climate temperature, moisture, and UV exposure.

Additionally, parts of AquaSplash products and structures are made with AquaLume™, an impact resistant and durable polymer that allows sunlight to pass through. As a result, you can rest assured that any AquaSplash element you purchase will be long-lasting and require minimal refurbishment.

Our preferred flooring is Life Floor, an award-winning, foam-rubber flooring system that has been designed to minimize slips and falls through superior traction. Its deeper grooves reduce hydroplaning without being abrasive. Life Floor's impact-absorption technology minimizes bumps and bruises sustained in a fall while its soft surface prevents cuts and scrapes. It is the only aquatic flooring which is ANSI/NSF50 certified in the USA.
