Dedicated to Helping You Maximize the Life of Your Water Parks & Attractions

While investing in a new water slide, play structure, or water ride is very exciting, the maintenance of the equipment is just as important. From faded and rusted surfaces to cracks and leaky joints, day-to-day wear and tear not only makes your slides look outdated and unkept, it makes them unsafe. Attraction maintenance is critical to ensure guest safety and satisfaction as well as your return on investment.

That is why it is vital to protect your investment in your water park equipment with a dedicated maintenance and support service. The ongoing maintenance of a water park ensures the longevity of your slides and play structures, enhances your water park's visual appeal, and safeguards your products for years to come.

Play Structure Refurbishing

Rusty steel, stretched out netting, and worn-out, discoloured slides. Sound familiar? WhiteWater's experts can breathe life back into your play structures with a thorough cleaning, fresh coat of paint, upgraded interactive elements, and most importantly, safety checks.

Often the simplest, easiest, and most cost-efficient way to upgrade your existing play structure is by retrofitting it with interactive add-ons and custom theming elements. WhiteWater's in-house designers and artisans can create fascinating and detailed themes that stimulate your guests' imagination and enhance the visual appeal of your park's landscape.

Life Floor

Created as an alternative to conventional surface coatings, Life Floor is a foam-rubber flooring system that delivers unparalleled safety, play value, and comfort - making it a perfect fit with WhiteWater's aquatic play product lines.

Why flooring matters more than you think

Slips and falls are a challenge in any water park environment. While conventional surfaces often use abrasive coatings, Life Floor has been designed for how people actually want to play in water: barefoot. Life Floor tiles are soft for bare feet and slip-resistant without being abrasive. Their Ripple 2.0 texture, with deeper grooves, reduces hydroplaning and is popular on applications such as play structure platforms, stair towers, ramps, zero-depth entries, pool decks, and below multi-level play structures.

TRACTION: Life Floor tiles are designed to be slip-resistant without being abrasive. Its British Pendulum results range from 40-55 depending on texture, giving Life Floor the highest possible BPN values worldwide versus conventional coatings.

NON-ABRASIVE SURFACE: If you fall on surfaces or coatings that create traction with sharp, gritty texture, you risk cutting, scraping, and other laceration-type injuries. Life Floor provides superior traction without the injuries.

IMPACT ABSORPTION: If someone does fall, the high impact built-in cushioning of Life Floor will minimize the bumps and bruises, while the tile's soft surface will prevent cuts and scrapes.

Slips and falls cause the most common injuries in water parks, and Life Floor dramatically reduces these incidents. Our Performance Services Team can help you retrofit Life Floor into spots you know you have trouble with slips and falls and install it to help take this worry away. Plus, the bright colours and designs possible with Life Floors can enhance the visual impact of your park.

The WhiteWater Difference: Uncompromising Safety

Safety is non-negotiable at WhiteWater. As a supplier and manufacturer, we demonstrate leadership in safety through our deep involvement with organizations such as ASTM International and IAAPA to support the standardization of international guidelines that govern the development of water slides, amusement rides, and attractions worldwide.

Quality that lasts

Our products are designed to last even in the most challenging environments facing harsh elements like wind, UV, humidity, and chemicals. Our in-house Center of Excellence tests our products to ensure what we provide is the most long-lasting investment you can make.

We stand by our products and our customers, always. With certified spare parts to help keep your water park equipment and attractions as good as new, we can help protect your investments and achieve the maximum lifespan of your attractions for the best ROI.
